

Privacy Policy

Last Updated: March 27, 2025

1. Introduction

Aya's Educational Worksheets ("we," "us," or "our") respects your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains our approach to personal information and outlines what we do—and more importantly, what we don't do—with your data.

2. Data Collection

We do not collect personally identifiable information such as full names, email addresses, or contact details through the website.

The only instance we receive any data is when a visitor voluntarily sends us an email. In such cases, the information shared is strictly limited to the contents of the email and is used solely for the purpose of responding to that inquiry.

We do not use cookies to track users, and we do not store any personal data automatically.

3. How We Use Information

If a visitor emails us, the provided information will only be used to:

- Respond to questions, suggestions, or requests
- Improve our materials based on user feedback

We do not use this information for marketing or share it with third parties.

4. Data Security

While we do not actively collect or store personal data through our site, any communication via email is kept confidential. We take appropriate steps to secure our email systems.

5. Children's Privacy

Aya's Educational Worksheets is designed for children but is managed by adults. We do not knowingly collect information from children.

6. Updates to This Policy

This Privacy Policy may change. Any updates will be posted on this page.
